Parangi "Pari" Patel Graduate Intern

Pari began her internship with BRHA in the Spring of 2021 to assist with fulfilling her degree requirements. She coordinates children's activities at the EnVision Center. We have been fortunate to have Pari and wish her the best in all future endeavors.

Interesting Tidbits:

- ♦ Pari, a native of India, moved with her family to the U.S. in the mid-2000's to pursue economic opportunities.
- ♦ She is a graduate of ETSU with a B.S. in Health Sciences. She will complete her Masters in Public Health in August.

- ♦ Pari enjoys hiking and spending time with friends.

- ♦ She loves ELEPHANTS! "In my religion, elephants represent loyalty, respect and good luck in their eyes."

- ♦ Pari's goals include opening her own medical clinic and possibly pursuing a Physician Assistant internship at Lincoln Memorial University (LMU).

- ♦ She enjoys cooking Indian specialties with her Mother, including "Vada Pav", a popular snack in India that is stuffed with a golden-fried spiced batata (potato) vada and various Indian spices.
